

Incident Response Program

Your Single Environmental Test Solution for Incident Response Support

Ready to Act, Scalable, Flexible, and Adaptable Environmental Testing Support

Timely and accurate environmental chemistry data is critical in assessing the potential impact of the unintended release of chemicals into the environment. We partner with our clients to provide a single environmental testing source for responses ranging from local releases to incidents of national significance. Eurofins TestAmerica's Incident Response Program offers clients an engaged partnership with the benefits of scalable, flexible, and adaptable environmental testing support.

Once accessed, our Incident Response Program will provide environmental testing support 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. Eurofins TestAmerica offers a nationwide footprint with strategically located facilities with all the appropriate certifications and accreditations to provide logistical support. All project data is available near real-time with online data via TotalAccess® to assist in urgent decision making processes.
